FROM THE PAPERS OF CAPTAIN FREDERIC INGHAM. I. -- PREPARATION. I Have no sort of objection now to telling the whole story. The subscribers, of course, have a right to know what became of their money. The astronomers may as well know all about it, before they announce any more asteroids with an enormous movement in declination. And experimenters on the longitude may as well know, so that they may act advisedly in attempting another brick moon or in refusing to do so. It all began more than thirty years ago, when we were in college; as most good things begin. We were studying in the book which has gray sides and a green back, and is called Cambridge Astronomy because it is translated from the French. We came across this business of the longitude, and, as we talked, in...
