For example, a battery electric bus has a limited range and must therefore be placed in appropriate duty cycles by the transit agencies. Resources on electric propulsion vehicles can be found in a number of places. The Internet provides information on electric propulsion vehicles. DOEs Alternative Fuels Data Center (www. afdc. doe. gov) includes a wide variety of information on all types of alternative fuels and propulsion systems for light-and heavy-duty vehicle applications. The Transportation Research Board has published several reports on transit related issues, which can be ordered through the Web. Information is also available through organizations such as the Electric Drive Transportation Association (EDTA) and the APTA. These and other Web sites are convenient starting places for researching electric propulsion vehicles. (See References for Web site addresses.) Seeking the experiences of other transit agencies is also a helpful way to prepare for a vehicle demonstration. Many agencies...
